What's New

Current & Upcoming Projects:

Now in year 2 of our long-range planning process, we're thoughtfully shaping the future of Woodland's landscape, architecture, and services.

To do that, we're keeping conservation in mind while expanding our investment in the cemetery as a habitat--

Building on a strong foundation and keeping in touch with our roots, these ongoing projects will bring a renewed focus on stewardship & education while preparing for sustainable growth of the cemetery.

Now Open: Woodland Visitor's Center

Located in Woodland's original Administration building, just inside our iconic main entryway, the visitor's center is a new hub for guests, families, and researchers to connect with Woodland's history and resources.

Preservation and Beautification

Restoration work continued on historic monuments and structures.

In response to last year's drought and severe storms, we expanded our tree care and replanting efforts.

Several new garden areas are now nearing completion and will welcome visitors over Memorial Day weekend.
