

WOODLAND

HISTORIC CEMETERY & ARBORETUM

Woodland's Historic Chapel

Originally constructed in 1887, Woodland's historic chapel was enlarged to its present size in 1898.

In autumn 2024, the Woodland Arboretum Foundation completed a monumental restoration project to restore this local landmark to the height of its historic grandeur — a 1904 renovation featuring original work by Tiffany Studios:

Now:

The chapel is a beautiful example of the 'Richardsonian Romanesque' type of architecture.

"Richardsonian" in this case refers to a rustic take on the "Roman"-ish (or 'esque') style.

Louis Comfort Tiffany
(1848 - 1933)

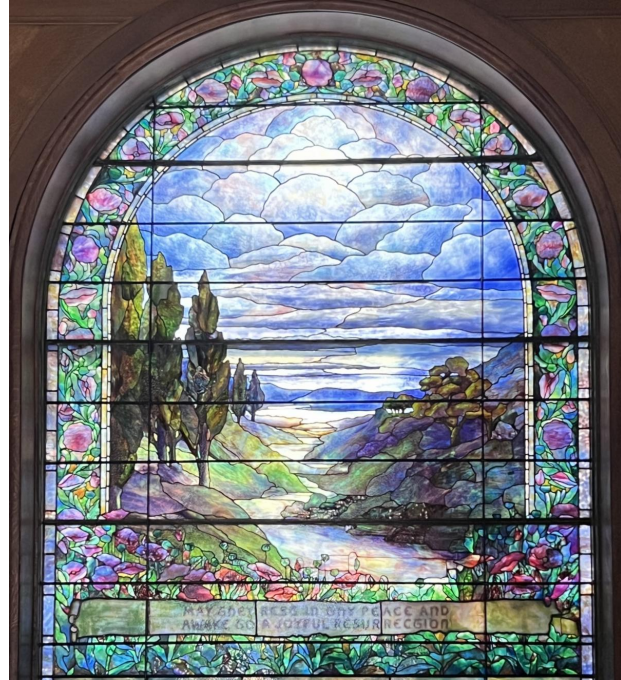

Trained as a painter, Louis C.
Tiffany later became an interior designer.

The chapel's 1904 renovation included many features we see today.

These include all 16 stained glass windows on the east & west walls, a hand-cut tile mosaic floor, and most notably, the large picture window at the north end of the chapel.

In 1878, he turned his attention to the production & artistry of stained glass.

Inspired by the precious materials of his father's famous jewelry company and his own deep admiration for the beauty of the natural world, the works of Tiffany Studio would go on to revolutionize the medium.

In their signature Art Nouveau style, Tiffany Studio's piece de resistance depicts a peaceful natural landscape as a winding river makes its way through wooded hills to meet the horizon.
